Published Monthly

To Our Readers

This number of THE SOIL is dated March instead of February. Subscribers, however, will receive the full twelve numbers. It was our original intention to publish at the end of the month; but this fact has been taken advantage of by one of a group who are devoting their lives to the uplift of human taste and refinement, to spread a rumor that THE SOIL will not be published any more owing to the high cost of paper, owing, also, to the enormous number of copies returned.

As a matter of fact, the December number was printed twice; eighty-eight copies were returned from out of town—none from New York—a new record in magazine circulation. THE SOIL is here to stay.
